Timed controls	Timed controls for all classes are before the course on the way to the start. There is one station with six flags (A-F), three tasks and with no zero answers. The marshal shows to the competitor cluster of flags Alpha to Foxtrot. The competitor receives all maps with the cover on top of them. Maps are not binded together. When the marshal says "The time starts now!" you may remove the cover. When the first answer is given you swap the map by yourself and continue with the next one, etc. The time is stopped when the last answer is given. Answers are given orally (preferably) in international phonetic alphabet (alpha, bravo, charlie, delta, echo &amp; foxtrot) or alternatively by pointing board. The maximum time per task is 30 seconds. For each correct answer you receive your recorded time. For each incorrect answer you receive your recorded time and 60 seconds penalty. A competitor must give the answer while the relevant map is visible. The competitor shall not turn over to the previous map at any time or to the next map before an answer is given for the current map.
A tasks	Tasks with only one flag have decision point from where you can see the flag
